HAPPY NEW YEAR

FAIRLINGTON COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE

A chilled but happy crowd gathered under the Christmas tree on Sunday, December 23, to sing carols under the direction of Mrs. Wayne Thurman.

Ornaments of the tree were made by Coleen Maxwell, Jean Buchanan, Bunny Butler, Anne Berkley, Joann Mitchell, Jane Graves, Clark Tufts, Ruth Browne and C. R. Hertzberg III of the Junior J.R.C.'s; and hung on the tree by the Seniors under the direction of Dick McLaughlin.

P.T.A. announces a meeting for Monday evening, January 14th, at 8 p. m., Fairlington School. Speaker will be Dr. Abner Robertson, Executive Secretary of Virginia Cooperative Education Association of Richmond, whose subject will be "Linking Schools with Home Life." Mrs. Ronald Geddie, program chairman, is preparing Book Lists for parents to be distributed at the meeting which is scheduled during National Book Week. The Executive Board of the P.T.A. is planning to entertain Dr. Robertson at dinner before the meeting.

Holiday Happenings

Favorite Fairlington couple, Kenneth and Sue Carmichael, returned for the holidays before leaving for California to make their home in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowen with Lt. Col. and Mrs. Warren Landis gave a cocktail party for them on December 22 with the following guests: Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Paul Boehelder, Lt. and Mrs. George Norton, Lt. and Mrs. Howard Fullmer, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clevenger, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Coop, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Eisner, Mr. and Mrs. Laher and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown. On Christmas night Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Coop entertained with an egg nog party and on Friday, December 21, the Clevengers also had an egg nog party for them.

CENTRE THEATRE CHRISTMAS PARTY

It was a Merry, Merry Christmas for hundreds of Fairlington children at the CENTRE Theater's first annual Christmas Party on Christmas Eve.

Gifts, piled high around the Christmas tree in the attractive lobby, were presented by a jolly Santa Claus.

Bud Ward, popular NBC announcer, thrilled the youngsters as the jovial Santa but did not fool the parents. Several sidled up and whispered, "Aren't you on the radio?"

The movie program consisted of a feature picture, comedy, and cartoon especially selected for the occasion.

Children of all ages attended. Mostly, however, they were small and very young. For many it was their first movie.

The beautiful CENTRE Theater, located on Seminary Road in Fairlington, plays the pick of all pictures. A feature suitable for children and appealing to the entire family is shown Friday and Saturday of each week.

Civic Association Chooses New President

On December 11 the Fairlington Civic Association met at the Fairlington School to choose a new president. Mr. Rufus Jasper, who is out of the city a great deal, resigned from the presidency of the Civic Association and was replaced by Lt. Joseph McLane.

Lt. McLane is well known to many Fairlingtonians, having already served on the Civic Association Board as Chairman of the Program Committee.

The new president is a graduate of Lafayette College and holds a Ph.D. degree from New York University where he served on the faculty. Lt. McLane then was associated with the Social Science Research Council and spent one year in Washington with the Council as Secretary of their Committee on Public Administration, assisting government agencies in war-time management functions. After joining the Navy he has remained in Washington, except for some time at Pearl Harbor and Midway, in the Bureau of Naval Personnel and at present in the capacity of Executive Office of the Secretary.

Lt. and Mrs. McLane live at 2934 S. Columbus St. with their son, Michael.
